ANSWERING YOUR QUESTIONS

I understand that before making a commitment to participating in the PlayHaven Green Building Project, prospective sponsors have specific questions...

- What is the benefit to me?
- How will my participation be made known?
- What kind of experience do you have doing this?

So let's get started with those questions.

WHAT IS THE BENEFIT TO ME?

The goal of the PlayHaven Green Building Project is to promote energy efficiency and sustainable building products and practices. The benefit to participating in the PlayHaven Green Building Project is exposure to the ever expanding 'green' community. These people and businesses are specifically looking for companies and products that they can include in their plans to live sustainably.

The owners of the project are investing more than a quarter of a million dollars to build the PlayHaven Green Building Project. They are creating a super energy efficient structure and will include as much sustainable building products and renewable energy creation as possible with the funds available to them.

Therefore, the higher the number Sponsors that are involved with this project (and the greater the level of Sponsorship), the more effective those funds will be and the greater the exposure will be for ALL Sponsors.

HOW WILL MY PARTICIPATION BE MADE KNOWN?

Sponsorship participation will be credited in:

- the signage at every tour of the PlayHaven Green Building Project.
- our website (along with a link to your website).
- direct marketing (along with contact information).
- press releases, articles and other media exposure.
- presentations, seminars.

WHAT IS YOUR EXPERIENCE?

My name is Bobbi Walker (the Owner/Designer of Intuitive Design). I have spent the last 20+ years dreaming of the day when I would be able to build an earth-friendly home. When I first started researching the possibility, there was very little available to give me hope that it could ever be accomplished... unless I was willing to do it all myself. Therefore, I have done an immense amount of research and immersed myself in the ever growing sustainable building industry.

I have an ever expanding network and many resources to fill in whatever knowledge or technical skills I may lack. Most notable has been my relationship with Hathmore Technologies, LLC which began in 2005. I recently co-authored (with Ken and Sharla Riead) DYO® Kits Green Building Decision Kit. This kit aids the user with comprehensive information and the decision making process of green residential or small commercial construction (either new or remodeling).

Hathmore Technologies, LLC successfully designed and built the Replete Residence, obtained local, regional and national sponsors for that project and created significant name recognition and credibility. Most of the sponsors stated their interest in employing newer products in a more current demonstration home. The Replete Residence had over 35 sponsors.

With their blessing and assistance, I have been able to draw upon that experience to advance the benefits of the PlayHaven Green Building Project. The Replete Residence was built in 1999 and has had more than 30 group tours since then. Organizations included the National Tour of Solar Homes (4 times), Sustainable Homes Tour (2 times), Affordable Comfort in Kansas City, American Lung Association Healthy Homes, and Blue River Community College classes. Corporate tours include Hallmark Cards, Sprint, Department of Commerce, and Girl Scouts Mid-Continent Council.

Additional exposure to the public included newspaper feature stories, television news features (4 channels, 6 spots) radio spots and third party publications.

We anticipate that due to the ever increasing interest in energy efficiency, climate change and sustainability; the numbers of visitors to the website and the Project itself will be dramatically higher than those experienced by the Replete Residence.

"Record numbers of consumers now recycle, seek out eco-labels, and incorporate any number of other environmentally sensitive behaviors into their lives."
